Continuous Professional Development Conference

Changing Landscape: New Challenges & Opportunities

Changing Landscape: New Challenges & Opportunities

In the last few years, Social Work profession has undergone several significant and wide reaching changes. These include: the transfer of regulator from General Social Care Council to Health and Care Professions Council, establishment of new Professional Capabilities Framework (PCF), creation of principle social worker role and establishment of new career framework, appointment of Chief Children Social Worker and Chief Social Worker for Adults, and others. So this conference aims to address questions such as:

What is the future of adult social care?

What are the changes in CPD, and how will HCPC evaluate/audit my CPD from 2014?

How does Care Quality Commission view "Quality" in adult social care?

What are some of the important developments in adult social work and how do they impact social workers?

What is PEPS and how does it affect social workers and practice educators?

What is the new career framework for social workers?
