Last February in an article entitled: "Obese woman demanding 50 hours care a week 'went to pop concert'" The article stated: #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:00 | SWSCmedia

A morbidly obese woman who says she needs help getting out of bed in the morning managed to make it to see her favourite boy band #SWSCmedia

#SWSCMedia case study tweets are starting. Very interested in this complex case study.

The woman says she needs up to 50 hours-a-week of care, but Council insists her worst enemy is her own "dependency" on the state. #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:00 | SWSCmedia

Her difficulties in getting out of bed are due to a “lack of motivation” #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:01 | SWSCmedia

To deal w/ obesity, she can make choices abt her own diet & buy low fat+healthy meals suggested by her “weight management” prog #SWSCmedia.

05-Aug-12 17:02 | SWSCmedia

She has become “emotionally and psychologically dependent” on council-funded support & based on advice of a consultant #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:02 | SWSCmedia

2/2 psychiatrist: she needs to “take responsibility for her own life and break her reliance on the support of others”. #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:02 | SWSCmedia

Whilst agreeing that she “requires treatment” for her “psychological” problems, 1/2 #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:02 | SWSCmedia

2/2 too much care & support from others for her “perceived needs” will be “counter-therapeutic” & “detrimental to her well-being” #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:02 | SWSCmedia

Woman’s lawyers are bidding to convince the High Court the council is legally obliged to lay on a full care regime for her, 1/2 #SWSCmedia

Her legal team says the council must also provide staff to accompany her when out shopping, 1/2 #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:03 | SWSCmedia

2/2 when she goes to the gym or “weight management” classes – and even when “she goes to a disco on Friday nights”. #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:03 | SWSCmedia

RT @SWSCmedia: Whilst recognising that the woman suffers from a personality disorder brought on by a traumatic childhood and bereavement, 1/2 #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:03 | ProfSocialWork

RT @SWSCmedia: 2/2 council insists she can do far more for herself than she believes and too much publicly-funded care will actively harm her. #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:03 | ProfSocialWork

2/2 "whether or not she has been drinking"; can't cook or clean for herself & can't go out in public w/o enduring extreme anxiety #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:07 | SWSCmedia

@SWSCmedia she needs a reasonable quality of life. #SWSCmedia & IMO she does need help & support but not sure abt the level of support?

05-Aug-12 17:07 | ProfSocialWork

@SWSCmedia @hevev assessing services for her to live independently would be most appropriate #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:09 | nicolejade6

RT @nicolejade6 @SWSCmedia it's a social workers role to assess services according to these people's needs. #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:09 | SWSCmedia

@SWSCmedia @hevev Interested in this remark. Neoliberal in what sense?

05-Aug-12 17:09 | itsmotherswork

#SWSCmedia 50 hrs per week seems a lot of hours...no older person in my LA , that I know of, has such a large package of care

05-Aug-12 17:09 | lavinialady

@nicolejade6 Agree. But how do we define those needs? #SWSCmedia

#SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:16 | SWSCmedia

@SWSCmedia @nicolejade6 first addressing the mental health issue seems core, that would allow an insight into her situation #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:18 | joanneg07

@annagillespie74 beginning stages of taking responsibility for herself. Seems classic signs of co-dependence #swscmedia

05-Aug-12 17:18 | ProfSocialWork

#SWSCmedia 50 hours a week seems a lot. It is hard to see that it is affordable. It may be that the care package needs to be rethought.

@lavinialady Does this mean that the council's approach is correct? #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:19 | SWSCmedia

RT @BecciCath: #SWSCmedia she does seem to resort to law to keep her "dependence". What chance does the LA have in face of legal challenges?

05-Aug-12 17:19 | SWSCmedia

@BecciCath So do you think the council is right to cut her 50 hours of support? #SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:20 | SWSCmedia

@hevev @SWSCmedia agree, like self harm. Cld also be about control or feelings of lack of control resulting in overeating. Linked to trauma?

05-Aug-12 17:20 | ProfSocialWork

@SWSCmedia with insight she start to become responsible for choices she has made good/bad acknowledging where she's been proactive#SWSCmedia

05-Aug-12 17:20 | joanneg07

@itsmotherswork @kch888 @swscmedia #SWSCmedia Yes. a rethink of what they are trying to achieve and how seems better idea.

05-Aug-12 17:20 | mulberrybush

@SWSCmedia @hevev #SWSCmedia surely support rather than "care" to help & encourage her self worth? Seems like she has shattered self esteem

05-Aug-12 17:20 | BecciCath
